

BORED-GAMES

WHITEPAPER

BOARD-GAMES

BORED-GAMES is a project as well as a company of its own kind. A company with the unique and broad aim of featuring the first NFT board game brand all over the globe.

The basic idea behind BORED-GAMES is to merge board games with NFTs and Art. The NFT and crypto world is full of shady people trying to earn money quickly and possibly scamming investors in the process. This is, for sure, not our plan. Our goal is to always give something back to the community. That is the reason why we focus on these essential points:

A Good Idea

BORED-GAMES is everything. But it is not BORED! BORED-GAMES wants to be the leading board game company in the NFT universe. The idea is to reward the NFT holder with a unique NFT board game. Not only a giveaway. Everyone who mints just 1 NFT will get a physical board game shipped to their home. This is how we want to bring value to the project. Of course you can collect, trade, flip, or sell our NFT on the ETH blockchain like every other NFT asset. Unique and fresh (re)designed games as tabletop and online games will round out the project's profile.

No Copycat & Nice Arts

Many copycat projects are released on various blockchains, and even the content is just copy-pasted. This is not our intention. BORED-GAMES is supposed to be an NFT project company as well as a friendly place where people want to spend their time. We won't focus on any price predictions after the NFT gets released. What we want in the first place is to deliver good products and meet our timelines. Instead of over-promising we want to give something back to the community, which is more than just another NFT. We will make a unique style that will BORED-GAMES instantly recognizable. Uniqueness is essential in the NFT space. Unique and creative ideas will always do better in the long run to keep the attention of the NFT community as a whole.

Affordable Price

Creating 10.000 physical board games and shipping them to any place in the world is neither an easy nor a cheap task. We want to work as environmentally friendly as possible, and that is why we will not outsource our factoring to Asia or China, but we will do it in Europe to keep our logistics as close as possible.

Ecological Stamp

Our products should not have any useless plastic, high-quality wood will be used as much as possible.

Mint Price

0.15 ETH is the cost for 1 NFT. Whitelist is open for everyone - The first 2000 addresses will be able to mint 1 NFT for 0.10 ETH.

Community

Community is everything! What we want is to avoid any unnecessary grind. People should have a good time chatting with us. We want to have frequent voice chats and discuss future products with our community. Users are not bound or forced to chat – the Whitelist is open for everyone.

Let's all collaborate to build card/board games of a new kind. People worldwide who like our vision can participate and vote on upcoming games, gameplays, etc. Giveaways, raffles, and polls will bring some tangible value and enthusiasm to the project.

As already mentioned, the first step will be to give each supporter of our first mint an actual board game into their hands. Right after, we will focus on new offline, mobile and online tabletop games.

Who is Behind the Project?

You can call me Chris. I live in Vienna and am a cartoonist in the NFT space, I am minting NFTs since 2020. I always liked to draw comics and cartoons in my free time. Once I heard that it is possible to show off your art on the blockchain I started with a couple of short animations and people really seemed to enjoy it.

Since then, I have been in this space for a couple of years, I have met many new friends and very nice people. Unfortunately, my partners from the past were not the best, so I started this project as a one-man-army supported by my girlfriend as well as my family and friends, who will mainly help me pack all the board games.

Trust is important in the NFT space, and I am here to answer all your questions. Our idea is to get out of our 8-5 job and be independent. That's why we want to involve you - the community. You decide where the road will go.

Future Goals

Besides the strategic vision and goals mentioned in the roadmap, there are few plans for where BORED-GAMES will go in long run. First of all, we want to enter the Metaverse at the appropriate time. The goal is to work on a platform where people can play together online or offline. Besides this, there is also a plan to create a VR board game where people can play with their own unique avatar and a personalized mobile game. These are some of the long-term visions we have in mind right now.

Collaboration

Collaborations enhance the way a team solves problems, resulting in more innovation, more efficient procedures as well as better communication within the team. That's why we want to collaborate with other serious PFP projects which are sharing our vision. Our goal is bringing value to our products, our community and of course our collaborators. Expect frequent raffles, community meetings and collaborations with other partners. We are also on the lookout for new artists who wants to work with us on future board games.
